

Seeking Nominations for the 2010 Joseph Mamana Award

The PAESSP Board of Directors is seeking nominees for the Joseph Mamana Award for 2010. This award recognizes meritorious service to PAESSP. Named for the Editor Emeritus of PASSP, Joseph Mamana served PASSP with his editorial skills, dedication to excellence in education, commitment to the professional advancement of Pennsylvania principals and leadership on the PASSP Building Committee. Now deceased, Joseph Mamana was a retired principal from the Easton Senior High School.

The association awards special recognition to an Elementary or Secondary member in good standing who has performed meritorious service to the association and its members, has made significant contributions to the professional advancement of principals, and who displays the personal characteristics of dedication and commitment to the profession through participation in the association.

If you know a member who fits the above criteria, contact your PAESSP elementary or secondary regional representative or call the PAESSP office for a Joseph Mamana Award nomination form at (717) 732-4999 or send an e-mail message to Mary Snyder at snyder@paessp.org. The deadline for nominations is Friday, May 7, 2010.
